DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 14-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Frick et al. (3401927) in view of Montguire (3513743).

Frick et al. disclose a set of folding boards (20-22, fig. 1) and bar (36, fig.1).

However, Frick et al. do not disclose a rotatable frame with two or more sets of folding blades for replacing one set with a second set with locking assembly.

However, Montguire et al. teach the use of frame assemblies mount for rotation about an axis to allow an operator to perform maintenance or tool changing (see col. 1, lines 50-62; col. 5, lines 17-24 and 33-35) on one frame assembly while the other frame assembly is being used, thereby, reducing down time. Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at time of invention to have provided Frick's folding apparatus with a second set of folding assembly (frame assembly, second bar and folding boards) where the first and second frame assemblies are mounted so as to rotate about an axis as taught by Montguire et al. to facilitate tool maintenance or tool changing of one assembly while the other frame assembly is being used to thereby reduce apparatus down time.

Regarding claim 26, Frick et al. also lack the teaching of locking assembly. However, Montguire et al. teach a locking assembly (pin 142 and recess 144, fig. 4) to align the rotatable member in selected position (see col. 3, lines 72-75; col. 4, lines 1-2). Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at time of invention to have provided Frick's folding apparatus with a locking assembly as taught by Montguire et al. to align the rotatable member in selected position.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 14-25 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
